

The Institute for Holocaust and Genocide Studies

A Seminar for Educators

Wednesday, March 21, 2018- 4 to 7:30pm

The Holocaust and Genocide Resource Room – 2nd floor Evelyn Field Library

Confronting Genocide: Never Again
Presented by The Choices Program at Brown University

The Raritan Valley Community College Institute for Holocaust and Genocide Studies invites you to a participatory workshop by Mimi Stephens, Professional Development Director for Choices Program. Mimi will present Confronting Genocide: Never Again, a curriculum unit produced by the Choices Program at Brown University. We will discuss the Genocide Convention and consider the challenges of defining "genocide." Participants will apply the standards of the Genocide Convention to five historical cases: The Trail of Tears, Colonial Congo, the Ukrainian Famine, Tibet, and the Conquest of the Desert in Argentina.

The curriculum guide also includes student readings and videos on: The Holocaust, Armenian, Rwanda, Sudanese, Bosnian and Cambodian Genocides. We will consider the benefits and limitations of using personal stories to learn about historical events. During this interactive workshop, we will ask: How can we memorialize a genocide? What is the purpose of memorials? What is the concept of historical memory?

Registration Fee of $25.00 includes a copy of the updated curriculum unit: Confronting Genocide: Never Again plus Dinner. 3 Professional development credits are provided.
